About GIAST

GIAST, an affiliate of GGSIPU, Dwarka, is a pioneer Teacher Training Educational Institute. It was set up under the aegis of Rohini Educational Society in 1999 with prime objective of nurturing every student–teacher as “responsible” teacher. The Institute is a venture of its own kind where educators and professionals have joined hands to produce effective teachers.

GIAST is a renowned Institute that promotes indepth thinking among the trainees and illuminates prime values and skills for professional and personal growth. In today’s highly competitive era, schools are equipping the teachers who are multi-talented and have strong creative skills along with the understanding of students to shape their future. To fulfill the need of society and to face the challenges of life, the budding teachers are to be prepared to cope with the changing societal and professional needs drawing out the best from the ancient era as well. For this, GIAST is providing platform to enhance the potential of aspirant teachers.

Gitarattan Institute of Advanced Studies and Training has emerged as a widely recognized center of excellence in Teacher Education. It is committed to produce excellent teachers who are highly motivated, globally competitive and are living models of human values. They are capable of transforming acquired knowledge and skills into professional life to nurture the future of the nation.

The Institute is organizing a National Conference on “Enriching the Future of Education with a Blend of Ancient Indian Culture” on Tuesday, 25th February’ 2020.

We solicit your gracious presence on this occasion to make this event a grand success.

About the National Conference:

Teachers are the greatest asset of any educational system. They stand at the interface of the transmission of knowledge, skills and values. In the words of Dr. Radhakrishnan, “No Nation can rise above the level of its teachers”. Therefore, they are accepted as the backbone of any educational system.

India has the second largest education system in the world. The Indian education system has gone through many phases. Great efforts have been put to shape up the present scenario of education system. The phase has its own pros and cons. The aim of this conference is to study ancient as well as modern education system in India. The various phases, through which education system has gone through, have been discussed in the sub-themes.

The CONFERENCE intends to provide a common platform for teacher educators, academicians and eminent educationists from the field of education to share their concerns and deliberate upon the issues and challenges of “ENRICHING THE FUTURE OF EDUCATION WITH A BLEND OF ANCIENT INDIAN CULTURE”

In the conference, the experts express their opinion on the subject circulated to them. Different experts may have different views on the theme they are speaking on.
