We solicit your gracious presence on this occasion to make this event a grand success.

About the National CONFERENCE:

Teachers are the greatest asset of any educational system. They stand at the interface of the transmission of knowledge, skills and values. In the words of Dr. Radhakrishnan, “No nation can rise above the level of its teachers”. Therefore, they are accepted as the backbone of any educational system.

In a transitory phase youngsters need to discover themselves Wholistically before stepping into the competitive world. They need to be prepared enough to face challenges of life. Education is interface between theory and practice both. Theory provides foundation to the education system and practice enhances the theoretical grounding. Progressive educational thought emphasizes cooperation in real life.

Wholistic education views all aspects of life as interconnected, interrelated & interdependent. As such, it is ecological and global, encouraging an understanding and appreciation of multiple contexts and connections. When we disconnect or dissociate with reality, especially parts of ourselves, we are limiting development. Education should consider the whole person —physically, mentally & spiritually - and recognise that we affect our environment and our environment affects us. Wholistic educators are especially concerned with failure of modern education to consider the emotional, social and spiritual natures of students. It seeks to develop the full potential of the person in a humanistic fashion that recognizes and honors each individual’s unique talent and capacities. Wholistic education sees active positive engagement in relationships with the world and others as one of the most powerful means of authentic education. It believes in the innate goodness of people and that they will develop into happy, healthy and well balanced individual given the right conditions.

Education is primarily a drawing out of unfolding of the individuals potentialities not a dispensing of information or instilling of learning.

To do this requires the educators to be well developed themselves and to be sensitive, knowledgeable and creative in helping their students realise their true natures. It encourages individuals and collective responsibility in and on-going quest for greater realisation, fulfilment, meaning, understanding and connection. In this regard, GIAST takes a sincere initiative to conduct a conference in order to make Teacher Educators aware about the concept of WHOLISTIC TEACHER EDUCATION.

The CONFERENCE intends to provide a common platform for teacher educators, academicians and eminent educationists from the field of education to share their concerns and deliberate upon the issues and challenges of “WHOLISTIC TEACHER EDUCATION.”

In the conference, the experts express their opinion on the subject circulated to them. Different experts may have different views on the theme they are speaking on. As is true about the concept of a conference, the learned experts present their view points on the conference- topic/s. The ideas emerged due to the deep thoughts expressed by the experts, become a pool of knowledge which may become the guidelines for the participants & their colleagues and other stakeholders.
